

FEEL LIKE GIVING UP.

Many Paris People On the Verge of Collapse.

A bad back makes you miserable all the time—Lame every morning; sore all day. It hurts to stoop—is hurts to straighten.

What with headache, dizzy spells, urinary weakness—

No wonder people are discouraged. Who do not know the kidneys may be the cause of it all?

Give the weakened kidneys needful help.

Use a tested and proven kidney remedy.

None endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. John Mastin, 1439 High street, Paris, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results and I know from the help they gave me that they would be just as beneficial in other cases of kidney trouble. I had a dead, dull ache across the small of my back and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Kidney Pills rid me of those complaints and if I should need a kidney remedy again, I would certainly take Doan's."

Mrs. Mastin is only one of many Paris people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches, if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Mastin had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. AMERICA'S BIG ARMY PUT IN FIELD ON RECORD TIME.

Reduction by half of the time it was originally estimated it would take to put America's first field army in France, was disclosed with the formal announcement by General March that three full army corps had been organized by General Pershing and that the number of soldiers sent overseas now numbered more than 1,100,000.

The eighteen divisions comprising the corps, consisting of four regular, nine national guard and five national army divisional units, probably will compose the first army which, with supplemented army troops such as heavy artillery, will total a million men.

Instead of one field army on January 1, 1919, as originally planned, it now appears probable that two such armies will be operating in France by that time backed by full American built and maintained supply lines. The great project of establishing the American army as the right flank of the battle line will then be within sight.

General March said organization of the first field army had not yet been completed. The formation of the three corps, however, and his announcement that troop movements to France were proceeding at the same astonishing rate that has been the rule for the last three months, made the American military program clear.

PAPER WASTAGE BY THE GOVERNMENT POINTED OUT.

A committee of the Eastern paper manufacturers has sounded what seems to be a long-neglected note with the purpose of revealing the shortage of white paper, now growing daily more acute. Paper wastage, the committee declares, is extravagant and unchecked except for the efforts of the newspaper publishers. The Government itself is one of the chief offenders. Thousands of pounds of paper are used in Government circulars, printed on one side only and mailed in large envelopes, which, by possibly half of their recipients, are thrown unopened into waste-paper baskets. "Security leagues," and similar organizations waste tons of paper in this way, also, far exceeding the Government in the extent of their futile and unnecessary mail circulations.

Among the suggestions brought forward lately by paper men for aiding the market is that all laid papers be eliminated, special finishes such as linen or vellum be dispensed with, bond papers be limited to five grades, colors be reduced, maximum weight bases established and all special orders be made only on a substance weight basis and only on orders for 10,000 pounds or more of a special size.

There is great waste of all kinds of paper according to many dealers. Writing on one side of note paper, for instance, and using long sheets when short ones would do is practiced everywhere. Wrapping paper is tossed away after being used once and the pieces are virtually too large for the bundles. When a butcher slaps a minute bit of steak into a sheet of paper big enough to carpet a parlor floor he may be making the package look as though it were worth the small fortune paid for it, but he certainly is not conserving paper.

PIG CLUB BOYS TO TAKE TRIP TO STATE FAIR.

The arrangement for another Farm Boys' Encampment at the State Fair, September 9 to 14, inclusive, has been made. One boy from the Boys' Agricultural Club in each county will be chosen as a representative and will receive this trip with all expenses paid, including railroad fare, board and lodging for the week.

This boy will be selected by the County Agent, Mr. L. S. Robbins, not later than August 15th. This, however does not preclude the selection of a boy later on for a trip to the State Fair because of the boy having the best pig at the Pig Club Show of the county. The boy to be selected August 15th will be the one that has taken the greatest interest in the development of his pig and has kept his record book in the best shape. It is probable that an Agricultural Board of Control will be organized in this county soon and that the selection of this boy may be turned over to the committee. The latter part of August the Pig Club Show will be held in the county and the boys in the Pig Club are now striving to see which can come out winner in the exhibit. Money prizes and a trip to the State Fair are held out as premiums to the winners. It is hoped, however, that a good many boys and girls from this county, whether they are winners or not will decide to compete for the thousand dollars in premiums offered at the State Fair on exhibits of pigs, calves, sheep, soy beans, potatoes, corn, etc.

Y.M.C.A. HUT IS THEIR HANG OUT

Yanks Travel Many Miles to Spend Evening in the Club.

SOMEBODY ALWAYS ON JOB

"Y' Guy" Can Be Depended Upon to Get Move On in Emergency—Men Made to Feel Perfectly Free and Unrestrained.

By CLARENCE BUDINGTON KELLAND.

Paris.—Thirty sailors off an American war vessel hired a motor truck and drove nine miles to get to the Y. M. C. A. club in a famous French city. I asked them why.

"Because it's a regular hangout," one of them said, and another added, "Because you get white bread with butter on it, and eggs fried on both sides and coffee with piano accompaniment."

As soon as I broke into the place I found why men would ride nine miles on a truck to loaf there from eight until eleven.

It wasn't the sort of place folks in the United States imagine a Y. M. C. A. to be. It was a swelteringly hot night, and the broad front steps were lined from end to end with men in khaki and men in navy blue. They were gassing and smoking until the place looked as if the captain had ordered a smoke screen to help him through the submarine zone.

From the street you could hear a piano doing business and a lot more men in uniform howling, "Joan of Arc." If the mothers of these boys could have heard that racket their hearts would have dropped off a pound of weight and increased their beat by ten to the second. They sang as if they were glad to be alive.

Right on the Job. And then somebody busted up the game. A sailorman came in and made the announcement that the driver of their truck refused to take them back to quarters again, and it was a walk of nine miles on a hot night, or a stretch in the brig for them. Gloom descended. Then somebody turned around and bellowed, "Where's one of them 'Y' guys?"

A "Y" guy happened to be on the spot and in a second he was surrounded, not by a crowd of men who were angry or in a mood to demand something, but by fellows who were mighty courteous in an unpleasant situation. That was something worth remarking, and it made you sort of glad to be around.

They put the thing up to the "Y" guy and one fellow said sort of bashful-like, "We don't want to act like we was puttin' this up to you. 'Tain't your fault, but—"

It was apparent they had gotten the idea somehow that you could depend on a "Y" guy to get a move on him, and the "Y" guy allowed as much.

"Sure, it's up to us," he said, "that's why we're here."

Inside of twenty minutes he was back with a big truck with a red triangle on the side of it. He tucked the thirty sailormen into it and off they went to keep their appointment with their boss.

That, quite likely, is one reason why they rode nine miles to spend an evening in the Y. M. C. A., because they knew somebody was on the job.

Like You Owned the Place. Another reason is that you don't have to knock, show a ticket, wiggle your first finger or roll over and play dead to get in. You just walk in like you were there to foreclose a first mortgage on the place.

When you walk through the front door you don't run into a lecture hall, though there is one upstairs, and the odor that comes to your nose isn't the odor of sanctity. It's the smell of fried eggs. The cafeteria is the first thing you meet, and if you are wise you get acquainted with it and stay acquainted while you are in this locality, for it is the best and cheapest place to eat in town. I know because I tried several.

The most impressive thing about it is the complete absence of an ostentatious welcome. You just help yourself and nobody says a word. You wander in and eat and wipe your mouth on your sleeve and hike upstairs to mess around on a piano or write a letter or play billiards, or to do as you doggone please. You are free. To be able to make a huge number of men feel perfectly free and unrestrained and at home is quite some little accomplishment. I haven't had time to find out how it is done, but the next time I have a party at my house I'm going to try it on. It's the real thing in hospitality.

SURPRISE FOR CHURCH FOLKS

Called an Hour Earlier for Prayer Meeting and Set to Digging Dandelions.

Denver, Colo.—Every member of City Park Baptist church was urgently requested to attend a special mid-week prayer meeting and to be on hand an hour earlier than usual. When the "worshippers" arrived the pastor produced an old case knife for each member, pointed to a church lawn badly cluttered by dandelions and told men and women alike to get busy. At the end of an hour of digging the lawn was clear of weeds.

An Aphorism Falls Down. Genius has not yet been able to utter an aphorism that would hold good in every instance. "Familiarity breeds contempt," they say. Every notable poet, essayist or artist whatsoever has left a tribute to his mother, either by personal tribute, or dedication or through symbolism, of love for his mother. Yet no other man has ever found such expression, however sublime, that could measure up to his own idea of his mother's virtues. And where is familiarity so pronounced as between mother and son?—Seattle Post Intelligencer.

Teeth to Blame.

The worst criminals seem to be the teeth. The Paris Medical takes a new fling at them, blaming them for sins usually charged to wronged, misjudged tuberculosis. "Bade insists that with enlarged glands in the neck, the primary lesion should be sought in the teeth, before incriminating the tubercle bacilli, and urges that the physician should insist on the teeth being put in order as an indispensable element of whatever treatment he is instituting."

To Reduce Flesh.

To reduce superfluous fat you must work. Your path will wind through many lanes of self-sacrifice before your mirror will give back the coveted willowy image. Your attainment of the ideal will mean hot work, too, for vigorous exercise is necessary. A daily walk of five miles should not be excessive if you are in good condition. Give a fair trial to the tonic baths so helpful for many girls who complain of "tired feelings."

Ornamental Trees.

As ornamental trees the Japanese and Chinese persimmons are entitled to high rank. When the trees are in full leaf they are handsome without other adornment. The trees loaded with orange and orange-red fruits are among the most striking objects in the garden. All thrive in California, and not elsewhere except in some southern states.

Population of the Earth.

In 1787 the population of the earth, according to Busching, was about 1,000,000,000; in 1800, according to Fabri and Stein, only 900,000,000; in 1833, according to Stein and Horschelmann, 872,000,000. In 1858 Dietrich estimated it at 1,266,000,000 and Kolb, in 1865, at 1,220,000,000. According to the latest calculations the earth is inhabited by 1,400,000,000 human beings.

Where Sardines Are Found.

Sardines are abundantly found off the Gallician, Andalusian and Cantabrian coasts. This fish varies in length from approximately 4½ to 7½ inches and weighs from 24 to 68 grams (0.864 to 2.398 ounces); occasionally larger specimens are caught.

Explained.

Willis—"What caused the row between Bump and his wife?" Gillis—"They went out to a theater last night and Bump hired a taxi to take them home. When the driver asked him where to, Bump said, 'Home,' and the driver said, 'Which one?'"—Judge.

What They Left Behind.

We know of a lot of men who didn't leave much behind them in the way of actual cash accumulated but they did leave families rich in the memories of the happiness they had while they were alive.

Absorbing the Sun's Heat.

According to an Italian scientist's figures a square mile of the earth's surface in six hours of sunshine receives heat equivalent to the combustion of more than 2,600 tons of coal.

A Pathetic Figure.

When a woman who married a man to reform him lives to be sixty years old without becoming a widow, she is about as pathetic a picture of animated weariness as one ever sees.

War Macaroni.

Somebody is complaining of the size of the war macaroni. We have always preferred the 44-calibre kind to the sort they call wermicelli, as Samivel Weller would say.

Armament of the Monitor.

The armament of the Monitor, which defeated the Merrimack, consisted of two eleven-inch guns, throwing 180-pound shot.

The Better Way.

It is better to worry about what may happen and get busy to prevent it than to spend a lifetime worrying after it has happened.

Method.

"How did you get the reputation of being so wise?" "I talk with a man till I discover something he doesn't know anything about. Then I pretend to explain it to him."—Washington Star.

A Test of Time.

Another way in which a man can tell when he's getting along in years is by noticing whether a reference to the veterans of '98 sounds at all funny to him or not.

Enough to Go Around.

Don't imagine that you're getting all the hard luck or all the good luck, because that never happened to anybody and never will.
